

Super Saturday 2019

The English Language Center at Howard Community College presents an afternoon of exciting professional development opportunities! Come for one session or come for all!

Building blocks & glue: A look at vocabulary & grammar patterns - Randi Reppin

This presentation will look at available resources of lexical bundles and collocations. Randi will explore patterns in different registers, including conversation, academic writing, and textbooks. Then she will move on to describe in detail how teachers can identify and create materials based on patterns of lexical bundles and collocations.

Assessment Architecture - Brad Knieriem & Chris Morphey

This workshop will explore best practices for designing effective assessments. Participants will practice creating assessments and leave the session with concrete assessment ideas for speaking, writing, and more!

Teaching Tips Mini Conference - HCC ELC Faculty

A series of short presentations for practical teaching ideas that benefit students and make teaching easier.
